

Important Note to Residents Outside of North Carolina

Continuing Education Units (CEUs)

For programs offering Continuing Education Units/credits (CEUs) through a distance education format, there are numerous states that have regulations requiring educational institutions to secure state authorization prior to offering CEUs to residents of their state. Winston-Salem State University has received exemption or through communication with state agencies, determined that authorization is not required for non-degree granting programs in all but ten states. Enrollments from the states below should be restricted until further notice:

Wyoming
Michigan
Minnesota
Missouri
Montana
North Dakota
Alabama
Oregon
Pennsylvania
Alaska

Admission of applicants residing outside the State of North Carolina to a non-degree or credit granting, certificate program or individual online course offered at Winston-State State University, is dependent on WSSU's ability to secure authorization from the applicant's state of residence, if such authorization is required.

Due to evolving changes in higher education regulations, at this time, WSSU is unable to serve all of the students that are interested in our continuing education courses or programs.
